

Urgent Product Recall Powder Infant Formula

November 9, 2010

Dear Consumer:

Abbott is updating its voluntary recall to include one small product lot of Similac Sensitive for Spit-Up™, also called Similac Sensitive® R.S. (Rice Starch), powder infant formula in 12.3 oz cans, lot number 92597RB7.

Abbott previously recalled certain Similac brand powdered infant formula on September 22, 2010, after an internal quality review detected the remote possibility of a small common beetle in the product. This additional lot (92597RB7) of Similac Sensitive for Spit-Up™ product was produced prior to the previous recall and was not included on the list of products. The lot constitutes approximately 6,000 cases in distribution.

The United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has determined that while the formula containing these beetles poses no immediate health risk, there is a possibility that infants who consume formula containing the beetles or their larvae, could experience symptoms of gastrointestinal discomfort and refusal to eat as a result of small insect parts irritating the GI tract. If these symptoms persist for more than a few days, a physician should be consulted.

Please check to see if you have Similac Sensitive for Spit-Up (formerly known as Similac Sensitive R.S.), lot number 92597RB7. The lot number is located on the bottom of the container. If you have any of this product, please stop using the product visit <http://recall.similac.com/recall/> or contact Abbott Consumer hotline at 1-888-376-2054, 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

If you have any health concerns, please contact your doctor. If you have any questions, please contact our consumer hotline at 1-888-376-2054.

We sincerely regret any inconvenience this action has caused you and appreciate your attention to this important matter. Our first and foremost responsibility is to provide only the highest quality product for your baby.

Sincerely,
